
Statement

Power Storage Europe B.V. declares compliance with all obligations resulting from the REACH regulation.

In such,

Power Storage Europe B.V. shall supply appropriate instructions to the recipients of its products falling under the REACH regulations.

A battery is considered as an article, containing chemical substances, not intended for release during normal use.

Based on this definition, paragraph 7 of the REACH is applicable to batteries.

Under reasonably foreseeable operating conditions and disposal there is no risk of exposure to humans or the environment. Therefore Paragraph 7.3 of the REACH regulations is applicable to batteries.

Batteries do not require registration or notification.

Frank Buirma,
Managing Director

24 December 2008